RACT members to save on power bills this winter

RACT members will be able to save on their power bills this winter thanks to a new partnership with 1st Energy.

RACT Members that sign up with 1st Energy will receive exclusive electricity pricing through a new negotiated deal launched today.

RACT Chief Member Experience Officer, Stacey Pennicott, said the average Tasmanian household could see some great energy savings throughout the year by switching to 1st Energy.

“The cost of living is a big issue for our members and every dollar saved helps, particularly in this economic climate” Ms Pennicott said.

“RACT members can make huge savings on everything from fuel, to food, to cricket memberships and now, on their power bill as well.

“In fact, we’ve partnered with over 100 businesses to offer savings to our more than 200,000 members. The best thing is, that until the end of August, it’s free to join RACT’s Rewards program.”

1st Energy Executive Director Adam Landry said the RACT Rewards Benefit will be applied to 1st Energy’s Market Usage Rates.

“We’re excited to provide much needed competition for the Tasmanian market, along with our friendly Australian based customer service. We’re proud to be partnering with one of Tasmania’s most trusted organisations,” Mr Landry said.

Ms Pennicott said that full details on the discounted pricing and details for becoming an RACT Rewards member are available at www.ract.com.au or by calling 13 27 22.

Mr Landry said more information and the terms and conditions on making the switch to 1st Energy are available at www.1stenergy.com.au/RACT or by calling 1300 106 014.
